The Wisdom of the Saints: Purgatory

We must say many prayers for the souls of the faithful departed, for one must be very pure to enter Heaven.

If we only realised the great influence the souls in Purgatory have with the Heart of God, and if we knew all the graces we can obtain through their intercession for us, we would not forget to pray for them. We must, therefore, pray much for them, that they may pray much for us. - St John Vianney

We are foolish if we only seek happiness in this world, because we're only here for a short time, and we risk being unhappy in the next world where we must live for eternity. So don't focus all of your time and attention on 'borrowed goods' - that is, this earthly life - because we know that these borrowed goods must soon be returned to the Owner. All our earthly goods are merely loaned to us. - St Alphonsus

In our prayers, let us not forget sinners and the poor souls in Purgatory, especially our poor relatives. - St Bernadette Soubirous

As we enter Heaven, we will see them, so many of them, coming towards us and thanking us. We will ask who they are, and they'll say, 'I'm a poor soul you prayed for in Purgatory.' - Ven Fulton J Sheen

*Others put in leftover change, but this widow was poor -
 she gave from her need;
 she gave more than the others.*

Pastoral Ponderings

It's an important annual spiritual exercise for me to inscribe the names of your beloved departed family members and friends into our parish Book of Remembrance, and to keep adding names as they are given to me on this month of the Holy Souls.

And I hope it's a good spiritual exercise for you, too. Someone once proposed this to me: "Why don't we just type up all the names of those we want remembered at Mass, and then you (Father) keep the lists and just reprint them each year - with any new additions, of course."

Yes, that would be the pragmatic approach. But, as I said, it is an important spiritual exercise to sit down and write down the names each year - because it involves remembering on your part.

As the names and faces pass before the eyes of our mind, the memories surface, and the people become real to us again, if for but a moment. These are people to whom we are grateful, perhaps; or they are people still in need of our forgiveness, perhaps.

Above all, they are people crying out to us for a remembrance in our prayers. They can no longer pray for themselves - they are completely dependent upon our prayers. So it's good to name them, and then pray for them.

I was so pleased to see the great attendance at Mass for both All Saints Day on Monday (75) and All Souls Day on Tuesday (135 in the evening, plus 21 at the student Mass in the morning).

I have not changed the Wisdom of the Saints quotes (above) because they are about Purgatory, and we all need to remember that the Holy Souls in Purgatory are completely dependent upon our kind prayers.

During this month of November, try to make a visit to the Blessed Sacrament (enter church through the side door). Page through the Book of Remembrance. Light a candle. Kneel or sit in the silence, and spend some quiet moments with Jesus.

Wherever Our Lord is present in the Most Blessed Sacrament in the Tabernacle, the Angels and Saints are also present, adoring Him.

And the souls of your departed family members and friends are also here in church, united in the Communion of Saints: those in Heaven, those in Purgatory and us on Earth, all praising God and asking Him for His love and mercy.

So take a moment now, and re-read the quotes from the Wisdom of the Saints above. One day WE will be among the Holy Souls in Purgatory! Hopefully there will be family members and friends praying for US. In the meantime, pray for the faithful departed.
