The Wisdom of the Saints: Teaching & Preaching

Whenever I see young children, I realise what a mistake it is not to train them to love Jesus from the very start of their lives. When they are young, they are like soft wax that is able to receive a seal, which is a lasting impression - and that impression may be a good one or a bad one; it all depends on us adults! There are so many souls who would attain holiness in life if only they were guided well in their early years. - St Thérèse of Lisieux (her statue is near the door)

When the abbot of the monastery is teaching his monks, he should always observe the advice of Saint Paul who said, "Reprove, entreat, rebuke." That is, the abbot - as occasions require - should mingle words of encouragement with words of correction. Let him display the sternness of a master, and the loving affection of a father. - St Benedict of Norcia

You can do nothing with children unless you win their confidence and love by getting them in touch with their inner selves, by breaking through whatever keeps them at a distance. - St John Bosco
 If the angels became school teachers, even they would find it hard to control their anger. Only with Our Lady's help do I keep from murdering some of my students! - St Benildus

The just person is like a tree that is planted beside the flowing waters: it yields fruit in due season, and its leaves never fade.

Pastoral Ponderings

The past two weeks have seen a flurry of activity at our parish school - rules about gatherings have been changing almost daily, and it's been hard (and a bit stressful) trying to keep up.

We had planned to have all the children in Years 1 - 6 come to church this past Thursday for the annual Opening Mass of the School Year. But then we were told no one could come. Then a representative group of a couple of dozen. Then no one. Finally, it was decided that one class of 30 could attend, so we had the Year 6 children come to church, while we live-streamed the Mass and the other children were able to watch the Mass from their classrooms.

After Mass, I went to school to have morning tea with the Principal and Assistant Principal. As I walked up, the Kindy class was gathered outside at Our Lady's Grotto - how beautiful! One of the boys saw me and said, "I saw you on TV!" So I am now a minor celebrity (in their eyes, anyhow!).

If you weren't here last weekend, please consider participating in the National Church Life Survey (NCLS) 2022. The NCLS was established in 1991 to track the life of Christian churches in Australia, and it's the largest study of church life in the world! It's held every five years alongside the National Census, and it involves more than 20 Christian denominations.

Results are sent to each parish to inform leaders about the composition and participation of their congregation, help formulate strategies to respond to social changes, and plan effectively to serve their congregation's needs.

You can use either the paper survey received here, or complete the online form. Instructions are in the middle column on this page.

Please return or submit surveys in the designated boxes at the church doors by the weekend of 19/20 February, or earlier.

This past week I entrusted our Application for Demolition to parishioner Albert Biagioni to submit to the City of Stirling. This will allow us to tear down the Presbytery and begin construction of our new Parish Centre/Presbytery. (Albert is very experienced in this - both the paperwork and the actual demolition.)

When our State border opens soon, the building industry will hopefully pick up as workers come from the Eastern States and even abroad, and the supply of building materials improves.

Let's continue to pray about this project, because it's a big one! I do thank the many of you who have been faithfully paying on your pledges or giving to the Building Fund. It's going to happen!
