MISSION APPEAL WEEKEND

This weekend we have the opportunity to reach out and help the Church in Ethiopia. Our gifts of prayer and funds can help build life-changing programmes from the ground up, to address the needs of the poor in a country that has suffered 18 months of civil war. You can watch a video about this: www.catholicmission.org.au/ethiopia

SUNDAY MORNING TEA

Following this Sunday's 9.00am Mass with Cardinal Souraphiel, please join us in the school hall (2 blocks down Rookwood St) for a wonderful morning tea. It's been hard to have large gatherings during the pandemic, so we welcome this opportunity to share fellowship. If you're attending Mass on Saturday evening, come back on Sunday for morning tea!

SAINT ANTHONY NOVENA

Sat 04 June: The Novena begins today, and will end on Sun 12 June, followed by the Feast of St Anthony on Mon 13 June. We will pray the Novena publicly at each Mass. Please sign up in the porch if you would like St Anthony's Bread and Lilies on the feast day. All donations to the poor on that day will be given to the St Vincent de Paul Society.

HOLY HOUR & ST JOSEPH DEVOTION

Every Wednesday: Adoration 6.15 - 7.15pm; confessions; Litany of St Joseph & Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

RCIA

Wed 08 June: Grow in knowledge of your Faith! This week's topic: Scripture Tells the Holy Spirit's Story. All are welcome - 7.30pm in the undercroft.

JUNE, MONTH OF THE SACRED HEART

Do you have an image of the Sacred Heart in your home? There was a time when no Catholic home was without one, proudly displayed as a reminder to place ourselves under the protection of Jesus. Even the TV sitcom 'Mrs Brown's Boys' shows the twin images of the Sacred Heart of Jesus & the Immaculate Heart of Mary, prominently displayed on Mrs Brown's kitchen wall! There are some small Sacred Heart prayer cards at the church entrances - take one, put it up on the fridge door, and remember to pray.

The Wisdom of the Saints: The Holy Spirit and Grace

The Holy Spirit rests in the soul of the just like the dove in her nest. The Holy Spirit hatches good desires in a pure soul, as the dove hatches her young. - St John Vianney

O Holy Spirit, You bestow Your grace wherever You will. Come into my soul and enthral my soul with love of You! Change my human nature with Your honeysweet gifts, so that my soul, filled with Your delightful joy, may despise and cast away the harmful things of this world, and receive Your own spiritual gifts. Then, going forth with joyful songs into the infinite light of Heaven, may we all be melted together in holy love. - Bl Richard Rolle

Why did Christ compare the grace of the Holy Spirit to water? Because all vegetables and animals live through water. The rain comes down from the heavens, and although rain is only one substance, as there is only one God, it takes on three forms - water, ice and mist - as there are three Persons in the one all-holy God. Indeed, Scripture tells us that one spring waters all of Paradise, and the same rain falls on the whole world, yet it becomes white in the lily, red in the rose, purple in the violet, and green in the grass. - St Cyril of Jerusalem

Lord, send out Your Spirit and renew the face of the earth!

Project Compassion

Please deposit your envelopes in the baskets next to the Mass collection boxes. Do not send them to Sydney, or the parish won't get credit for your donation. Please bring your boxes to church and leave them in the porch. Thank you for your support.

Pastoral Ponderings

The visit to our parish of Cardinal Souraphiel, the Archbishop of Addis Ababa, during his tour of Australia, has raised some questions: exactly what is a cardinal, what does a cardinal do, and how does a priest become a cardinal?

The word 'cardinal' comes from the Latin word 'cardo', which means 'hinge' or 'pivot'. Cardinals are the 'hinges' upon which the doors of the Church's government hang. The heads of many Church ministries are usually cardinals.

But there are three ranks of cardinals: cardinal bishops (who head Church offices in Rome, or who lead the various Eastern churches, e.g., Patriarchs of Jerusalem, Alexandria, etc), cardinal priests (archbishops of important cities in the world) and cardinal deacons (bishops from smaller dioceses).

Cardinals are advisors to the Pope, who calls them to Rome for special meetings called 'consistories'. With their experience, either in Church ministries or 'on the ground' in local dioceses, they advise the Pope on important issues of the day.

Of course, the most notable task of the cardinals is to elect a new Pope when that office is vacant. But not all cardinals can vote in the papal conclave (the meeting to elect the Pope); once a cardinal turns 80, he loses the right to vote. But he can still attend consistory meetings and advise the Pope.

* * * * *

In the first centuries of the Church's life, cardinals were appointed only from the Roman clergy. But after the legalisation of Christianity in 313, clergy from outside Rome were appointed cardinals. They were assigned churches in Rome, however, of which they became the honorary or 'titular' pastors. So, to this day, each cardinal has a 'titular church' in Rome, which he visits and sometimes assists.

Until the mid 19th-century, laymen were sometimes given the rank of cardinal. These men normally worked in the Vatican doing special work for which they were qualified, such as finance. Then it became the norm that cardinals should be bishops, and that remained the case until Pope St John Paul II decided to name a few priests to be cardinals. These were old men who had served the Church valiantly in places where the Church had been persecuted.

For centuries, the number of cardinals was limited to 70. Recent popes have increased that number, so that more nationalities can be represented in the 'College of Cardinals'. Today there are 203 cardinals, of whom 128 are eligible to vote in a papal conclave. (Unfortunately, I cannot vote . . . but I can definitely have an opinion!)
